HOME HAPPENINGS

-Don't keep local news items hidden from the Dispatch.

-Winter and spring weather mix it up in great shape these days. —Local dealers have disposed of many car loads of coal the past three weeks.

-Now the mooted question is, will the groundhog see his shadow a week from today?

-The Buckeye Handle Works, of which R. H. Higgins is manager, on Wednesday shipped a car load of hand hay rakes.

-Some changes are contemplated by the local Odd Fellows' lodge calculated to attract not a little attention to the organization.

Revival meetings are in progress in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches every evening this week and both are largely attended.

-Many tramps were permitted to roost in the village lockup during the cold weather. And their eats were provided by the "kind lady" at back doors.

—The Stitchery Club was delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. F. Guy and Mrs. W. J. Dickson at the home of the former on Court street.

-The Normal College Athletic association will serve a 25c supper at the college next Tuesday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. Some people never hand in an item of news for publication, but if we happen to miss an item in which they are interested they are sure to hand us a north pole stare that would freeze the liver of a polar bear.

-A Huxsaw has stored about 200 tons of fine ice but a break in his dam at the South Run dropped much ice on the bottom of the creek and in consequence was prevented from filling his large ice house last week.

-While Silvio Ruscitto the other day was using a blow torch on a gasoline can which had been emptied and then filled with water a terrific explosion occurred, hurling the can considerable distance. Mr. Ruscitto was fortunate to escape without a

By spring time, gentle Annie, Canfield should be provided with more frequent mail service. If the Erie Co. will run only two passenger and mail trains a day about the only way in sight to get more frequent mails is to have an automobile service between Canfield and Youngstown arranged for.

-Canfield township trustees met in town hall last Saturday afternoon and ordered paid a number of small bills. Only a small sum is being paid to needy persons in the township. It was decided to have only one road superintendent in the township the coming year, instead of two, and Clark Lower was appointed to the

-The Farmers National Bank of Canfield has been made depository for the postal savings account of the Calla postoffice. The funds are be forwarded by Postmaster Knauf to Postmaster Taber who is to receipt for same and deposit them in the bank indicated. The postal savings accounts add not a little to the work of postmasters for which they receive no additional compensation.

abeth Harding of Canfield, which has been offered for probate, $1,000 is given to her daughter, Alice Harding, for her care and devotion during her mother's declining years; $300 another daughter, Mrs. Emma Johnson, and the remainder of her estate goes to the six children equally. Her son, G. L. Harding, is named as executor in the will which was signed Nov. 3, 1908.

-Material for the dam to be bunt about a mile east of Canfield is being gotten on the ground. Last year a company was organized by local and Youngstown men to establish a pleasure resort a short distance west of the residence of R. L. Kyle. The dam will be constructed just as soon as the weather will permit and soon thereafter the work of beautifying the grounds will begin. It is planned to make the resort one of the most attractive in this section of the coun-

-If some of the big farms in the vicinity of Canfield could be cut up into places of 10 or 20 acres it would be one of the greatest blessings that could come to this community. It would mean not only more people but more and better farming. Small farms would bring back from the west and northwest many farmers who left this section in the hope of bettering their condition. A small farm properly worked will bring greater returns with less effort than many a big ranch.

-"Much has been said in the Dis patch about an electric railroad to connect with Youngstown. Does the editor of the Dispatch believe there is any immediate or remote prospect of such a line being built? This is a frank question and is entitled to an equally frank answer." Thus writes A Subscriber." We wish we could answer in the affirmative but at this time are not prepared to do so. As "A Subscriber" knows many such lines have been promoted but nothing came of them.

-Mrs. Mary Kirk, widow of the late John Kirk, died last Sunday evening at her home in the southern part of Canfield township. She had been as well as usual until Saturday eve-ning when she was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion and pneumonia developed which caused her teath. Deceased's maiden name was fary Pow and her age was 79 years. The was married to John Kirk, who died only a few months ago, in 1850. Three children were born to them but only one, Mrs. M. S. Frederick, survives. She also leaves two grandsurvives. She also leaves two grandsons, Frank and George Frederick, and four great-grandchildren. Mrs.
Kirk was a woman of many excellent qualities and had many friends. Early in life she united with the Disciple church. Funeral services held Wednesday afternoon from the family home were conducted by Rev. M. J.
Grable of Salem. Interment was made in the Disciples cemetery, west of Greenford.

-Alliance Review. Race Suicide is Blamed. "Is race suicide in Ohio responsible for the alarming decrease in the attendance of the schools of the state in the period from 1902 to 1911?" This is the question State School to solve. Statistics compiled by his Parshal, auctioneer. department show that in 1902 there were 1,245,393 pupil, ranging in age from six to twentyone years, attending state schools. In 1911, but 1,226, 897 pupils were on the rolls, a decrease of 18,496 pupils in eight years. The same statistics show that the decrease has been a steady one, and that year after year a few hundred pupils less attend the schools. In 1909 this falling off in attendance was highest, 11,351 less pupils attending than in 1908. In 1910 another 3,827 children eft the school, and in 1911 the decrease was 230.

"I am convinced this decrease is due to the fact that poor people no longer raise large families," said the commissioner today. "Twenty or thirty years ago a family of twelve or fourteen persons excited no comment. Now it is an unusual thing, Should this rate decrease keep up it would be a matter of a score of years when an entire new school sys tem would have to be devised. It is this decrease that has necessitated the centralization of schools.'

HELPED ALONG GOOD CAUSE

Columbus, Jan. 20, 1912. Editor The Dispatch,

Canfield, Ohio. Dear Sir:-I am writing to express our appreciation of your interest in the agricultural extension school recently held in your town and to thank you for the mention given it through the columns of your paper. The success of the school was highly gratifying to us, considering the condition of the weather during the weel that it was held, and we feel that your advertising notices are in a large measure responsible for bringing out such a large attendance. We want you to know that we appreciate your support. If at any time we can be of service to you, feel free to call on us. Very truly yours,

T. L. WHEELER, Agricultural Extension Editor.

The Main Reason

The Rebman method of eye examinations is absolutely original. It is not "just like," or "just as good" as the usual eye examination you generally get. The Rebman examination stands alone distinctly different. It is an evolution from the crude methods taught years ago and developed by me from the experience gained in twenty-two years practice on over one hundred thousand eyes. It is only by comparison that we can judge 215.15 the quality. That is the reason I 71.84 prefer people who have tried other systems and failed to obtain results.
